1853. WINTER TRADE. 1853.

JOHN D. GARDINER.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOODS!
No. 135 East Water Street, Milwaukee.

Sound the loud timbrel o'er Prairie and River!
Proclaim the glad tiding —Goods cheaper than ever!

IN VIEW of the luxuriant crops in all the great staples of our young and glorious State, and the good prices they at present command, and the consequent increased ability of our farmers to buy, as well as the increased activity of business generally, among all classes, the subscriber has been induced to make extra preparations for a large and extensive trade. In anticipation of this increased demand for Dry Goods, he has spent a portion of the past summer and fall East, where he has been engaged in buying one of the largest and most varied stocks of Dry Goods that he has ever yet brought into Wisconsin. In buying these Goods, he has taken the utmost pains in selecting the best and most fashionable styles and qualities.

His purchases have been made of the Manufacturers or their Agents, the Importers and at Auction. His facilities for buying fully warrant him in saying that they are equal to any, and excelled by no firm in the trade. The old maxim, that "Goods well bought are half sold" has governed him in his purchases. And knowing that he buys as low, he is determined not to be undersold in a fair and legitimate way. Come then, all you who are weary and heavy laden with the yellow corn, or overburthened with good promises to pay, and we will give you rest, and impart comfort to those who are hungry and naked, by selling goods cheaper than ever.

This fact we desire to keep prominently in the public eye—THAT WE DO NOT PERMIT OURSELVES UNDER ANY REASONABLE CIRCUMSTANCES TO BE UNDERSOLD. Remember it.

"Is Mr. Harris in?" inquired a plainly, but neatly dressed boy, of twelve or thirteen, of a clerk, as he stood by the counter of a large bookstore.

The well paid clerk regarded the boy with a supercilious look, and answered, "Mr. Harris is in, but he is engaged."

The boy looked at the clerk hesitatingly, and then said, "If he is not particularly engaged, I should like much to see him."

"If you have any business to transact, I can attend to it," replied the clerk. "Mr Harris cannot be troubled with children like you."

"What is this, Morley?" said a pleasant looking, elderly man, stepping up to the clerk; "what does the boy want?"

"He insisted on seeing you, though I told him you were engaged," returned the clerk, a little abashed by the manner of his employer.

"And what would you have with me my lad?" inquired Mr Harris kindly.

The boy raised his eyes, and meeting the half scornful glance of the clerk, said, timidly, "I wish to look at the bill of some books which I bought here about three months since. There is a mistake in it, which I wish to correct."

"Ah,' my boy, I see," replied Mr Harris, "you have overpaid us, I suppose."

"No, sir," answered the boy. "On the contrary, I purchased some books which are not charged on the bill, and I have called to pay you for them."

Mr Harris folded his arms across his breast regarded the boy earnestly for a moment, and then asked, "When did you discover this mistake?"

"Not until I had reached home," replied the lad. "When I paid for the books I was in a great hurry, fearing the boat would leave before I could reach it, and did not examine the bill."

"Why did you not return and rectify the mistake?" asked the gentleman in a tone slightly altered.

"Because, sir, I live at some distance from the city, and have not been able to return until now."

"My dear boy," said Mr Harris, "you have given me great pleasure. In a long life of mercantile business, I have never met with an instance of this kind before. You have acted nobly, and deserve a recompense."

"I ask no recompense," returned the boy proudly, "I have done nothing but my duty, a simple act of justice, and that deserves no reward but itself."

"May I ask who taught you such noble principles?" inquired Mr. Harris.

"My mother," answered the boy, bursting in to tears.

"Blessed is the child, who has such a mother," said Mr Harris, with much emotion, "and blessed is the mother, of such a child. Be faithful to her teachings, my dear boy, and you will be the staff of her declining years."

"Alas, sir," sobbed the boy, "she is dead. It was her sickness and death, which prevented me from coming here before."

"What is your name?" inquired Mr Harris.

"Edward Delong."

"Have you a father?"

"No, sir, my father died when I was an infant."

"Where do you reside?"

"In the town of Linwood, about fifty miles from this city."

"Well, my boy, what were the books which were forgotten?"

"Tacitus, and a Latin dictionary."

"Let me see the bill. Ah! signed by A C Morton. I will see to that. Here, Mr Morley," called Mr Harris—but that functionary was busily engaged in waiting on a customer, at the opposite side of the store, bowing and smiling in the most obsequious manner.

"Edward," continued the kind hearted Mr. Harris, "I am not going to reward you, for what you have done, but I wish to manifest my approbation of your conduct, in such a manner, as to make you remember the wise and excellent precepts of your mother. Select from my store, any ten books you choose, which, in addition to the ten you had before, shall be a present to you; and henceforth, as now, my boy, remember and 'do not despise the day of little things.' If ever you need a friend, call on me and for your mother's sake I will assist you."

When the grateful boy left the store, through his own tears he saw the moistened eyes of his kind benefactor.—Eliza A. Clark.

BOOTH'S INK FOR SCHOOLS.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Aug. 29, 1853.

W. W. BOOTH:

Dear Sir—I feel myself to be under weighty obligations to you for the dozen bottles of your Superior Black Ink. Several bottles are being used in my school, with most gratifying satisfaction. We hear not that common complaint of "poor pens," which we so often hear where an inferior or ordinary article of ink is used. 'Tis not its jetty, black, and shining smooth surface, alone, that gives it a superiority over other articles of the same name, but the readiness with which it always flows from the pen, and the property which effectually prevents metallic pens from corroding, under all ordinary circumstances. I can most cheerfully recommend its introduction into our primary schools as being peculiarly adapted to the use of children.

Respectfully Yours, &c.,

SLAVERY EXTENSION AND THE NEBRASKA BILL.

Address to the People of the United States.

Washington, Thursday, Jan. 19, 1854.

FELLOW-CITIZENS—

As Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States, it is our duty to warn our constituencies whenever imminent danger menaces the Freedom of our Institutions or the permanency of our Union.

Such danger, as we firmly believe, now impends, and we earnestly solicit your prompt attention to it.

At the last session of Congress, a bill for the organization of the Territory of Nebraska passed the House of Representatives, with an overwhelming majority. That bill was based on the principle of excluding slavery from the new territory. It was not taken up for consideration in the Senate, and consequently failed to become a law.

At the present session, a new Nebraska bill has been reported by the Senate Committee on Territories, which should it unhappily receive the sanction of Congress will open all the unorganized territory of the Union to the ingress of slavery.

We arraign this bill as a gross violation of a sacred pledge; as a criminal betrayal of precious rights; as part and parcel of an atrocious plot to exclude from a vast unoccupied region, emigrants from the Old World and free laborers from our own States, and convert it into a dreary region of despotism, inhabited by masters and slaves.

Take your maps, fellow-citizens, we entreat you, and see what country it is which this bill gratuitously and recklessly, proposes to open to slavery.

From the southwestern corner of Missouri pursue the parallel of 36° 30' North latitude, westwardly across the Arkansas, across the north fork of Canadian to the northeastern angle of Texas; then follow the northeastern boundary of Texas to the western limit of New Mexico, then proceed along that western line to its northern termination; then again turn westwardly, and follow the northern line of New Mexico to the crest of the Rocky Mountains; then ascend northwardly along the crest of that mountain range to the line which separates the United States from the British Possessions in North America, on the 49th parallel of North latitude; then pursue your course eastwardly along that line to the White Earth river, which falls into the Missouri from the North; descend that river to its confluence with the Missouri; descend the Missouri, along the western boundary of Minnesota, of Iowa, of Missouri to the point where it ceases to be a boundary line, and enters the State to which it gives its name; then continue your southward course along the western limit of that State to the point from which you set out. You have now made the circuit of the proposed Territory of Nebraska. You have traversed the vast distance of more than three thousand miles — You have traced the outline of an area of four hundred and eighty-five thousand square miles; more than twelve times as great as that of Ohio.

This immense region, occupying the very heart of the North American Continent, and larger, by thirty-three thousand square miles, than all the existing Free States, excluding California—this immense region, well watered and fertile, through which the Middle and Northern routes from the Atlantic to the Pacific must pass—this immense region, embracing all the unorganized territory of the nation, except the comparatively insignificant district of Indian territory north of Red River and between Arkansas and Texas, and now for more than thirty years regarded by the common consent of the American people as consecrated to Freedom, by statute and by compact—this immense region, the bill now before the Senate, without reason and without excuse, but in flagrant disregard of sound policy and sacred faith, proposes to open to Slavery.

We beg your attention, fellow citizens, to a few historical facts.

The original settled policy of the United States, clearly indicated by the Jefferson Proviso of 1784, and by the Ordinance of 1787 was NON EXTENSION OF SLAVERY.

In 1803 Louisana was acquired by purchase from France. At that time there were some twenty-five or thirty thousand slaves in this Territory, most of them within what is now the State of Louisiana; a few only, further north, on the west bank of Mississippi. Congress, instead of providing for the abolition of Slavery in this new Territory, permitted its continuance. In 1812 the State of Louisiana was organized, and admitted into the Union with Slavery.

In 1818, six years later, the inhabitants of the Territory of Missouri applied to Congress for authority to form a State Constitution, and for admission into the Union. There were at that time, in the whole Territory acquired from France, outside of the State of Louisiana, not three thousand slaves.

There was no apology in the circumstances of the country for the continuance of Slavery. The original national policy was against it, and, not less, the plain language of the treaty under which the Territory had been acquired from France.

It was proposed, therefore, to incorporate in the bill authorizing the formation of a State Government, a provision requiring that the Constitution of the new State should contain an article providing for the abolition of existing Slavery, and prohibiting the further introduction of slaves.

This provision was vehemently and pertinaciously opposed; but finally prevailed in the House of Representatives by a decided vote.—In the Senate it was rejected, and in consequence of the disagreement between the two Houses, the bill was lost.

At the next session of Congress the controversy was renewed with increased violence. It was terminated, at length, by a compromise.—Missouri was allowed to come into the Union with Slavery, but a section was inserted in the act authorizing her admission, excluding Slavery forever, from all the territory acquired from France, not included in the new State, lying north of 36° 30'.

We quote the prohibitory section:

"SEC. 8. Be it further enacted, That in all territory, ceded by France to the United States, under the name of Louisiana, which lies north of thirty-six degrees and thirty minutes of north latitude, and not included within the limits of the State contemplated by this act, Slavery and involuntary servitude, otherwise than as the punishment of crime, shall be and is hereby forever prohibited."—Act March 6, 1820—3, U. S. Statutes at Large, 545.

The question of the constitutionality of this prohibition was submitted by President Monroe to his Cabinet. John Quincy Adams was then Secretary of State; John C. Calhoun was Secretary of War; William H. Crawford was Secretary of the Treasury; and William Wirt was Attorney General. Each of these eminent men, three of them being from Slave States, gave a written opinion, affirming its constitutionality, and thereupon the act received the sanction of the President, himself, also, from a Slave State.

Nothing is more certain in history than the fact that Missouri could not have been admitted as a Slave State, had not certain members from the Free States been reconciled to the measure by the incorporation of this prohibition into the act of admission. Nothing is more certain than that this prohibition has been regarded and accepted by the whole country as a solemn compact against the extension of Slavery into any part of the Territory acquired from France, lying north of 36° 30', and not included in the new State of Missouri. The same act—let it be ever remembered—which authorized the formation of a constitution for that State, without a clause forbidding Slavery, consecrated, beyond question and beyond honest recall, the whole remainder of the Territory to Freedom and Free Institutions, forever. For more than thirty years—during more than half the period of our national existence under our present Constitution—this compact has been universally regarded and acted upon as inviolable American law. In conformity with it, Iowa was admitted as a Free State, and Minesota has been organized as a Free Territory.

It is a strange and ominous fact, well calculated to awaken the worst apprehensions, and the most fearful forebodings of future calamity, that it is now deliberately proposed to repeal this prohibition, by implication or directly—the latter certainly the manlier way—and thus to subvert this compact, and allow Slavery in all the yet unorganized territory.

We cannot, in this address, review the various pretences under which it is attempted to cloak this monstrous wrong; but we must not altogether omit to notice one.

It is said that the territory of Nebraska sustains the same relations to Slavery as did the Territory acquired from Mexico prior to 1850, and that the pro-slavery clauses of the bill are necessary to carry into effect the compromises of that year.

No assertion could be more groundless.

Three acquisitions of territory have been made by treaty. The first was from France. Out of this territory have been created the three Slave States of Louisiana, Arkansas, and Missouri, and the single Free State of Iowa. The controversy, which arose in relation to the then unorganized portion of this territory, was closed in 1820, by the Missouri act, containing the Slavery prohibition as has been already stated.—This controversy related only to territory acquired from France. The act by which it was terminated, was confined by its own express terms to the same territory, and had no relation to any other.

The second acquisition was from Spain.—Florida, the territory thus acquired, was yielded to Slavery without a struggle, and almost without a murmur.

The third was from Mexico. The controversy which arose from this acquisition is fresh in the remembrance of the American people.—Out of it sprung the acts of Congress, commonly known as the Compromise measures of 1850, by one of which California was admitted as a Free State; while two others, organizing the Territories of New Mexico and Utah, exposed all the residue of the newly acquired territory to the invasion of Slavery.

These acts were never supposed to abrogate or touch the existing exclusion of Slavery from what is now called Nebraska. They applied to the territory acquired from Mexico, and to that only. They were intended as a settlement of the controversy growing out of that acquisition, and of that controversy only. They must stand or fall by their own merits.

The statesmen, whose powerful support carried the Utah and New Mexico acts, never dreamed that their provisions would ever be applied to Nebraska. Even at the last session of Congress, Mr. Atchison, of Missouri, in a speech in favor of taking up the former Nebraska Bill, on the morning of the 4th of March, 1853, said: "It is evident that the Missouri Compromise cannot be repealed. So far as that question is concerned, we might as well agree to the admission of this Territory now, as next year, or five, or ten years hence." These words could not have fallen from this watchful guardian of Slavery, had he supposed that this Territory was embraced by the pro-slavery provisions of the Compromise Acts. This pretension had not then been set up. It was a palpable after-thought.

The Compromise Acts themselves, refute this pretension. In the third article of the second section of the Joint Resolution for annexing Texas to the United States, is expressly declared that—

"In such State or States as shall be formed out of said Territory north of said Missouri Compromise line, Slavery or involuntary servitude, except for crime, shall be prohibited."—Act of Mar. 1, 1845—5 U. S. Statutes at Large, 797.

And in the act for organizing New Mexico and settling the boundary of Texas, a proviso was incorporated, on the motion of Mr. Mason, of Virginia, which distinctly preserves this prohibition, and flouts the bare-faced pretension that all the territory of the United States, whether north or south of the Missouri Compromise line, is to be open to Slavery. It is as follows:

Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to impair or qualify ANYTHING contained in the third article of the second section of the Joint Resolution for annexing Texas to the United States, approved March 1, 1845, either as regards the number of States that may hereafter be formed out of the State of Texas, OR OTHERWISE.—Congressional Globe, 1849—'50, p. 1552; Act Sept. 9, 1850—9 U. S. Statutes at Large, 446.

Here is proof, beyond controversy, that the principle of the Missouri Act, prohibiting Slavery north of 36° 30', far from being abrogated by the Compromise Acts, is expressly affirmed; and that the proposed repeal of this prohibition instead of being an affirmation of Compromise Acts, is a repeal of a very prominent provision of the most important act of the series. It is solemnly declared in the very Compromise Acts "that nothing herein contained shall be construed to impair or qualify" the prohibition of slavery north of 36° 30', and yet, in the fare of this declaration, that sacred prohibition is said to be overthrown. Can presumption further go? To all who, in any way, we lean upon these Compromises, we command this exposition.

The pretences, therefore, that the Territory, covered by the positive prohibition of 1820, sustains a similar relation to Slavery, with that acquired from Mexico, covered by no prohibition except that of disputed Constitutional or Mexican Law, and that the Compromises of 1850 require the incorporation of the proslavery clauses of the Utah and New Mexican Bill in the Nebraska Act, are more inventing, designed to cover up from public reprehension meditated bad faith. Where he living now, no one would be more forward, more eloquent, or more indignant in his denunciation of that bad faith, than Henry Clay, the foremost champion of both compromises.

In 1820, the slave States said to the free States, "Admit Missouri with Slavery, and refrain from positive exclusion south of 36° 30', and we will join you in perpetual prohibition north of that line." The Free States consented. In 1854, the Slave States say to the Free States, "Missouri is admitted; no prohibition of Slavery south of 36° 30', has been attempted; we have received the full consideration of our agreement; no more is to be gained by adherence to it on our part; we, therefore, propose to cancel the compact." If this be not Punic faith, what is it? Not without the deepest dishonor and crime can the Free States acquiesce in this demand.

We confess our total inability properly to delineate the character or describe the consequences of this measure. Language fails to express the sentiments of indignation and abhorrence which it inspires; and no vision, less penetrating and comprehensive than that of the All-Seeing, can reach to evil issues.

To some of its more immediate and inevitable consequences, however, we must attempt to direct your attention.

What will be the effect of this measure, should it unhappily become a law, upon the proposed Pacific Railroad? We have already said that two of the principal routes, the Central and the Northern, traverse this Territory. If Slavery be allowed there, the settlement and cultivation of the country must be greatly retarded. Inducements to the immigration of free laborers will be almost destroyed. The enhanced cost of construction and the diminished expectation of profitable returns will present almost insuperable obstacles to building the road at all; while even if made, the difficulty and expense of keeping it up, in a country from which the energetic and intelligent masses will be virtually excluded, will greatly impair its usefulness and value.

From the rich lands of this large Territory, also, patriotic statesmen have anticipated that a free, industrious, and enlightened population will extract abundant treasures of individual and public wealth. There, it has been expected, freedom-loving emigrants from Europe, and energetic and intelligent laborers of our own land, will finds homes of comfort and fields of useful enterprise. If this bill shall become a law, all such expectation will turn to grievous disappointment. The blight of Slavery will cover the land. The Homestead Law, should Congress enact one, would be worthless there. Freemen, unless pressed by a hard and cruel necessity, will not, and should not, work beside slaves. Labor cannot be respected where any class of labors is held in abject bondage. It is the deplorable necessity of Slavery that to make and keep a single slave, there must be slave law; and where slave law exists, labor must necessarily be degraded.

We earnestly request the enlightened conductors of newspapers printed in the German and other foreign languages, to direct the attention of their readers to this important matter.

It is of immense consequence, also, to scrutinize the geographical character of this project. We beg you, fellow citizens, to observe that it will sever the East from the West of the United States, by a wide, Slaveholding belt of the country, extending from the Gulf of Mexico to British North America. It is a bold scheme against American Liberty, worthy of an accomplished architect of ruin. Texas is already slaveholding, and occupies the Gulf Region, from the Sabine to the Rio Grande, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Red River, and extending between Texas and Arkansas, to the parallel of 36° 30', lies the Indian Territory, about equal in extent to the latter State, in which Slavery was not prohibited by the act of 1820. From 36° 30' to the boundary line between our own country and the British possessions, stretching from west to east through more than eleven degrees of longitude and from south to north through more than twelve degrees of latitude, extends the great Territory, the fate of which is now to be determined by the American Congress. Thus you see, fellow-citizens, that the first operation of the proposed permission of Slavery in Nebraska, will be to stay the progress of the Free States westward, and to cut off the Free States of the Pacific from the Free States of the Atlantic. It is hoped, doubtless, by compelling the whole commerce and the whole travel between the East and the West, to pass for hundreds of miles through a Slaveholding region, in the heart of the Continent, and by the influence of a Federal Government, controlled by the Slave Power, to extinguish Freedom and establish Slavery in the States and Territories on the Pacific, and thus permanently subjugate the whole country to the yoke of a slaveholding despotism. Shall a plot against humanity and Democracy, so monstrous and so dangerous to the interests of Liberty throughout the world, be permitted to succeed?

We appeal to the People. We warn you that the dearest interests of Freedom and the Union are in imminent peril. Servile demagogues may tell you that the Union can be maintained only by submitting to the demands of Slavery. We tell you that the safety of the Union can only be insured by the full recognition of the just claims of Freedom and Man. The Union was formed to establish justice, and secure the blessings of liberty. When it fails to accomplish these ends it will be worthless, and when it becomes worthles it cannot long endure.

We entreat you to be mindful of that fundamental maxim, of Democracy, EQUAL RIGHTS AND JUSTICE for all men. Do not submit to become agents in extending Legalized Oppression and Systematized Injustice over a vast Territory yet exempt from these terrible evils.

We implore Christians and Christian Ministers to interpose. The Divine Religion requires them to behold in every man a brother, and to labor for the Advancement and Regeneration of the Human Race.

Whatever apologies may be offered for the toleration of Slavery in the States, none can be urged for its extension into Territories where it does not exist, and where that extension involves the repeal of ancient law, and the violation of solemn compact. Let all protest earnestly and emphatically, by correspondence, through the press, by memorials, by resolutions of public meetings and legislative bodies, and in whatever other mode may seem expedient against this enormous crime.

For ourselves, we shall resist it by speech and vote, and with all the abilities which God has given us. Even if overcome in the impending struggle, we shall not submit. We shall go home to our constituents, erect anew the standard of Freedom, and call on the people to come to the rescue of the country from the domination of Slavery. We will not despair; for the cause of Human Freedom is the cause of God.

[Signed by the Senators and a majority of the Representatives from Ohio.]

The Rock River Valley Railroad.

We perceive that the Hon. John B. Macy, Representative from this district, has presented a petition to Congress from the above Company, asking for a donation of land to aid in its construction.

We desire, most emphatically, to record our opposition to any such appropriation. The opening of the road from Fond du Lac to Janesville, will not lead to the sale of a solitary foot of Government land on that route, for the good reason that it has already passed into the hands of individuals. If the Company is to obtain a grant, the lands will be located in some of the counties north of us, they will be held by a monopoly, and kept out of market until a great price is realized for them; or they will be transferred at high rates to English capitalists for iron, and by them held for ages; or they will be sold, and the proceeds find their way into the pockets of the admirable financiers who have so thoroughly used up one set of stockholders, and built but a few miles of road; or, lastly, they will be used, as has been intimated by one of the wire-pullers, to influence the election of some politician of easy virtue to a seat in the Senate of the United States.

There is not a shadow of reason why this Company should receive aid from the Government in their undertaking. It would be far better to give the land to the honest and industrious settlers, who are turning the wilderness into thriving fields, than to heartless, soulless Incorporations, whose whole efforts, thus far, have resulted in making a few men rich, at the expense of the many.—Appleton Crescent.

RAILROAD MONOPOLIES.—Gov. Barstow's idea of exempting Rail Roads from taxation, while in process of construction, does not receive much favor from the press or people. The fact is, no such doctrine will go down. There would be a great deal more propriety in exempting farms from taxation, while in process of clearing and breaking; mills, while they are being constructed, and goods whil they are being sold.

We entertain little fear that this last effort of the Railroad combinations and politicians to lighten the pockets of the hard working taxpayers, will find many votaries in either branch of the Wisconsin Legislature.—Appleton Crescent.

We fear it. The farmers of this State pay four times as much tax as they pay in New York, and twice as much as in the State of Illinois.—And yet, see if this Legislature don't exempt Railroad corporations, and let the farmers and mechanics pay for it. On the same principle that the Governor recommends Land Grants to Railroad Companies.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
GEORGE W. JULIAN, of Indiana.

LAND MONOPOLY.

LAND GRANTS.—The Free Democrat denounces us as a traitor to Land Reform, because we prefer, as a choice of evils—the monopoly being admitted—such disposal of the public lands as will tend to the public benefit rather than exclusive private speculations. Will the editor tell us which of these two systems he prefers?—Madison Argus and Democrat.

We answer, that the great obstacle to Land Reform is the application of hordes of speculators at the doors of Congress for Land Grants to Railroad Companies. Were it not that the Halls of Congress are literally besieged by the agents of Railroad Corporations, with bribes in their hands, to carry through their schemes, the present year would witness the establishment of the doctrine of Free Homes for All, and the end of sales and monopoly of the Public Lands. And, instead of protesting against this monstrous wrong, the Argus comes out in its defense, asks to share in the plunder, and throws the weight of its influence in favor of the worst species of Land Monopoly.

For corporate monopolies are ten-fold more irresponsible than private monopolies. Corporations cannot be reached by public sentiment, nor by Legislatures, half as easily as individuals can. With a capital of three or four millions of dollars and a donation of a million or two dollars worth of Public Lands, and with agents scattered all through the State, they can corrupt and control the Legislature, dictate our Senators and Representatives in Congress—as the Railroad Monopoly has done in New Jersey—and set the Public will at defiance.

Railroads, built with the Public Lands, are rather a curse than a blessing to a State.—Their benefits are more than counterbalanced by the Land Monopolies they perpetuate from generation to generation. Instead of asking Congress to bestow on them the heritage of the people, let Railroad corporations petition Congress to offer the Public Lands free to actual settlers, and the living voices of industrious men will be heard all along the lines of the proposed Railroads, making the wilderness and the solitary places blossom as the rose. And these settlers would not only build these roads, but would furnish them with business—with freight and passengers—after they were completed.

We reply, then, to the Argus, that if we must have Land Monopolies, let them be controlled by private individuals rather than by Corporations. For the individual dies and his monopoly is broken, and his lands are sold, or divided among his heirs. But corporations are perpetual, and their monopolies grow stronger by age.

Yes, we do distinctly charge that the Madison Argus and Democrat has turned traitor to Land Reform—that it has not simply rendered its past professions suspicious, but that it has proved them insincere and worthless. It is now employed in the defense of Land Monopoly in its worst form. And we are sorry to see indications that the Senate is about to sanction this iniquity.

We hope that the Assembly will adopt Dr. Bartlett's Resolution, and thus checkmate the movement of the Land Monopolists.

We hope, too, that the Press and the People will speak out, promptly and emphatically, their rebuke of such trifling with the best interests and the future prosperity of our noble State. The fraud, attempted to be practiced on the people by electing a U. S. Senator this session, is but "the small dust of the balance," compared with this gigantic swindle of transferring to the possession of Railroad Corporations, the rightful Homes, of the present and future generations. If the people remain quiet under such attempts, their rights and interests will soon be in the safes of Railroad Companies.

The Nebraska Outrage.

We call attention to the very able Address of the Free Soil and Free-souled members of Congress to the people of the United States on the Nebraska Bill of Douglass, which opens the whole Territory of the Union, not yet organized, to the spread of Human Slavery. This Address scatters to the winds the impudent pretensions of Douglass and the Doughfaces, that this bill is a carrying out of the Compromises of 1850, and shows that it is a plain violation of it, and a repeal of positive law in favor of Freedom. We ask our Legislature to look at it candidly, and act as become the sons of Freemen.

The Ohio Legislature has protested against this outrage. The New York Legislature is following suit. Why should Wisconsin be behind any other state in its devotion to Freedom?

JOHN MITCHELL.—Our readers will note the communication of our friend, "J. G.," an old acquaintance and fellow-countryman of MITCHELL. It has the ring of the true Irish metal.

We learn, also, that some of our Irish friends at Kenosha, who were about getting up a club of 50 subscribers for the "Citizen," spurned it, as they would a scorpion, on reading his unblushing advocacy of Human Slavery.

MITCHELL has broken a lance with HENRY WARD BEECHER. Annihilation were better for him than the mementoes of such a controversy.

Poor MITCHELL! Died by his own hand—a moral suicide!

SUNDAY AMUSEMENT.—A horse-race came off at Racine on Sunday last. Moral place!

RELIGIOUS REVIVALS are in progress in various parts of Outagamie county.

MADISON CORRESPONDENCE.

MADISON, Jan. 28, '54.

It was a dull time in both Houses of the Legislature to-day.

IN SENATE.—Prayer by Rev. Mr. Miller.

The Senator from Grant Co., Mr. Dewey, took his seat for the first time.

Mr. Harvey presented a petition to revive the Death Penalty.

Mr. Wakely introduced a bill to amend Ch. 86, R. S., relative to County Courts.

The bill to extend the time for collecting taxes, in the town of Beloit, was passed.

The State Journal and the Argus have been paying high compliments to Senator Allen, the President pro tem., of the Senate. I presume, therefore, he deserves the honor of his position.

[We presume so too. But it don't follow, of course, from the praise of presses which live on the Treasury.—ED. F. D.]

IN ASSEMBLY.—Prayer by Rev. Mr. Lord.

The Journal was read.

Petitions and claims were presented and referred.

Mr. Parkinson introduced a bill to extend the time of payment of interest on School and University Lands and Funds, to March 5th of each year, for which the rules were suspended, read third time and passed.

This will be an accommodation to the Treasury Department as well as to those who have to pay interest money.

Mr. Noggle introduced a bill relative to counties not organized for judicial purposes—read twice and referred.

Mr. Colley—to incorporate the Rock County Agricultural Society and Mechanic's Institute; read twice.

Mr. Joiner offered a resolution, that all appropriation bills show on the face the amount appropriated, which was laid over under the rules.

Mr. Tallmadge reported, by bill, to provide for the measurement of a bridge over the Portage canal—referred to Judiciary Com.

Mr. Knowlton—a bill on the Black River Lumber and Boom Company, recommending its passage with amendments.

Mr. Hart—a bill to repeal the law granting to the County of Calumet the right to erect County Buildings.

Bills from the Senate were read a second time—to appropriate to Lafayette Kellogg a sum of money; and to incorporate the North Western Canal Co.

Bills read 3d time and passed—to incorporate the Fort Winnebago, Baraboo Valley and Minnesota Railroad Co.; to organize Dunn County; to provide for paying the expenses of appraisement of the Capital Lands.

The joint resolution on visiting the State Prison by Committee, was returned from the Senate with an amendment authorizing a more full investigation with power to send for persons and papers. The amendments were concurred in.

M. D.

[Glad to see this last Resolution passed. If the Committee will only do their work thoroughly, they will learn something which the public don't know. We should like to be questioning counsel for that Committee about three days. We could put interrogatories that would point to something. If we had power, we would summon all the under officers of the Prison, and others we could name, and put them under oath, as to the management of the Prison. John Taylor is not the only man unfit for Warden. We hesitate not to say, that Gov. Farwell would not have kept a man in his own service a single day, who should manage his business as Henry Brown managed for the State. But it is so easy to make anything appear fair on paper, that we fear the examination will only prove a white-washing affair, after all. Seventeen Thousand Dollars to pay for the State Prison Management, the present year! Well, it wont hurt the public to have matters looked into. If we can't have our public affairs administered honestly, we go for an increase of Prison accommodations, promptly.—Ed. Free Dem.]

UNITED STATES SENATOR AGAIN.—We have private advices from Madison, that the attempt to cheat the people out of a voice in the election of a United States Senator, is not likely to succeed in the Senate, even should it be sanctioned by the Assembly. The bill ought to be scouted out of the Legislature, with unanimous execrations. Should it be knocked in the head—as we trust it will be—nobody will be willing to father the dead bantling. We understand that, even now, those who were expected to "take the benefit of the Act," are disclaiming all friendship for it. This movement will only tend to promote the election of the very man it was designed to supersede.

JUDGE DOUGLAS AND NEBRASKA.—The New York Tribune of the 24th says:

"Mr. Douglas made his appearance yesterday in the Senate, riding two horses abreast.—He goes now for a split of Nebraska, and for the making of two Territories where there are not half people enough to form one. Just what he proposes to do we do not learn. But we judge he is after keeping up the equilibrium of things by making a slave and a free State out of his two proposed Territories of Nebraska and Kanzas.

He has recently discovered and perfected an improvement in the chemical process, which imparts to a picture, a beauty, finish, and tone, far superior to that possessed by Daguerreotypes generally. His light is arranged on scientific and artistic principles, as taught and practised by Sully, Allston and other distinguished artists. Disturbance in Church.

We omitted, yesterday, to notice an incident that occurred in the Spring-St Congregational Church, on Sabbath evening, hoping it would not be made the subject of newspaper comment. As the Sentinel has alluded to it quite recently, we take occasion to say, that the lady who walked up into the pulpit and essayed to speak after sermon, was evidently in the trance state, and very probably under the control of some one in the congregation For she came out of that state, when touched and spoken to by one of the audience, like a somnambulist, suddenly awakened from sleep Neither denunciation nor ridicule is the proper treatment for such persons There are facts in connection with what are called spiritual manifestations, which cannot be gainsaid But the explanations of some are as unsatisfactory as the pretensions of others are unfounded

WE are under obligations to Hon John B Macy for a copy of Stansbury's Report of the survey of the Salt Lake region, with accompanying maps

THE CITIZEN —This paper, edited by JOHN MITCHELL, which commenced with a circulation of 4,000, is represented by the New York papers to be in a rapid state of decline, owing chiefly to his endorsement of American Slavery. The Chicago Tribune says that the Citizen is selling in that market, and that some of the booksellers who have a quantity of them on hand would gladly sell them for waste paper Mr Mitchell made a sad mistake when he volunteered to defend the iniquities of Slavery, and he is now looked upon with pity and contempt, even by the rankest pro-slavery men of the North

REAL ESTATE SALE IN JANESVILLE —A Janesville correspondent of the Sentinel writes as follows:

"The auction sale of lots in this city on Friday last went off well The prices obtained were as follows: Six lots on Milwaukee street, 22 by 110 feet, brought respectively $2500, $1800, $1650, $1500, $1400, and $1420—making in all $10,275. Six lots on River street, same block, 22 by 110 feet, brought $750, $500, and four $600 Three lots on Main street, east side of River, brought $1725, $1500 and $1275—the same front as the other"

MINNESOTA —The Message of the Governor of Minnesota was delivered on the 10th inst. The following from the Message gives some idea of the lumbering operations in the St Croix Valley

THE weekly N. Y. Tribune has a circulation of 96,000 The whole circulation—daily, tri-weekly and weekly—is 130,000.

THE annual meeting of the Manitowoc Bible Society will be held at Manitowoc village to-morrow

THE Baraboo Standard reports the snow to be two feet deep on a level in that vicinity.

A FREE BRIDGE is soon to be constructed across the river at Oshkosh.

Watertown Markets.—For the past few days our streets have been enlivened by a throng of teams, loaded with grain and pork. The unprecedented prices of breadstuffs in Milwaukee has had the effect of bringing forward an immense quantity of produce. At this point, buyers are active, and prices maintain their position. We give the rates of to-day:

Wheat—winter, 100@105, spring club 95@100, common 90@95; Rye, 45@50; Oats, 20@22; Corn, 38; Beans, 63; Pork, $3,50@$4,00; Butter, 12½; Linseed Oil, wholesale, 70; Rape Oil, for lamps, $1; Oil Cake, 87½ ⅌ 100 lbs.—Watertown Register

To John Mitchell, Esq., Editor Citizen Newspaper, N. Y.

DEAR SIR: Having known your respected parents and partaken of their hospitality, and having witnessed with much solicitude your early career, full of events calculated to excite the sympathies of all who value Liberty, Justice and Equal Rights, I take leave to address you in reference to your sentiments on the subject of Slavery, which I read with considerable pain in one of your recent publications.

From one so devoted to the best interests of your own oppressed country, in whose cause you displayed a talent peculiarly your own, and evinced a degree of reckless fearlessness unequalled perhaps in the history of any other patriot of ancient or modern days, I could not expect sentiments so completely at variance with those principles which have gained for you the admiration of a large portion of mankind. You ought to know, from sad experience, that Life, without Liberty, is but an insupportable burden; you ought to know that GOD created the slave and him who would "drive him, work him, lash him;" you ought to know that, as a member of the human family, with a soul and feeling exactly similar to yours, the black man feels the weight and torture of his chain with as much intensity as yourself; you ought to know that he, at least, is your brother Why, then, in the name of common sense—in the name of humanity—in the name of universal liberty, which is sought even by the brute in his cage,—why, then, I would ask should you violate that divine command, which teaches you to do unto others as you would wish to be done by? This is the great cardinal commandment, which, of itself, is sufficient to direct our moral action as regards the worldly intercourse of the human race,—why, then, violate it? I ask this question not in the spirit of anger—not in the spirit of revenge—not in the spirit of hatred I ask it with feelings of sorrow and pity,—I ask it in the hope that you may be able, by some explanation, to soften and smooth down the angry feeling your avowed sentiments on Slavery have excited among those who were determined to be your friends If you should not wish or deem it necessary to explain away your expressions, I am willing to offer an apology for you, by referring the imprudence to the head—not to the heart, convinced that, in your ardency to serve your country and redress its wrongs, you might have often given expression to sentiments and opinions in which many of the best friends of Ireland may not deem it prudent to concur

I remain, Dear Sir, with feelings of delight for your deliverance and safe arrival in the land of Freedom (Slave States excepted), your friend and countryman, J. G

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS AT CHESTNUT HILL; by COUSIN MARY

A very interesting book, filled with pretty stories, pleasantly told It is handsomely bound, and is just the thing for our little friends. They are all love stories, and such beautiful tales as these, are just what every parent would be pleased to have them read.

LITTLE BLOSSOM'S REWARD—dedicated to a mother's own little blossom; by Mrs EMILY HARE.

We have read most of this book to our little girl, and she was delighted with it. We can assure the children she has good taste, and they may rely on her judgment, so far as to purchase one like it, and see if they do not agree with her in thinking it just the thing for them. She also pronounces the pictures very pretty, and thinks other children will like them too There is a story in it "by Grandmama," about a "Wise Cat." Also one about the "Fairies"; one about Santa Claus, and many more that we have not time to mention.

BURRCLIFF—Its Sunshine and its Clouds; by PAUL CREYTON

This is a very interesting book Every one will like it. Ask your papas, dear children, to buy it for you; they will like to read it as well as you It is written in good style, and is destined, we think, to be a favorite.

St. Louis City and County Bonds.—St. Louis City and County were in the New York market with $500,000 six per cent. bonds (250,000 each) on the 23d inst. When the bids were opened it was found that the city sixes ranged 87½ to 90; the county sixes at 84½ to 87—90.—The total of bids amounted to $950,000. Six months ago St. Louis six per cent. were in request at 100 to 102½.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—In the Senate, this morning, Mr. A. G. Brown, the new Senator from Mississippi, was sworn in and took his seat.

Mr. Seward presented memorials in favor of Cheap Ocean Postage.

Mr. Everett presented the petition of the Massachusetts Historical Society, asking Congress to procure from England copies of documents touching the early history of the American colonies.

Erie Matters.

ERIE, Jan. 26.—It is understood that a dispatch has been received in this town by the U. S. Marshal, from Attorney General Cushing, instructing him to proceed, without any delay, in repairing the railroad, and to forward word immediately to Washington, if he is interfered with; in which case, troops will be sent on without delay. Judge Thompson is endeavoring to allay the excitement of the people.

WRITING PRAYERS.—At the breaking of the ground for the commencement of the Lynchburg and Tennessee Railroad, at Lynchburg, the Rev. J. E——, by appointment, acted as chaplain on the occasion. At the time appointed for prayer, the chaplain raised his hand and said, "Let us pray." In an instant all hats were doffed, and the chaplain commenced, slowly and solemnly, to read a very appropriate manuscript prayer, which he had previously prepared. During the reading of the prayer, an old negro man, who had been engaged with his spade, was resting with one foot on the spade and his arms on the handle, looking very intently in the chaplain's face. At the conclusion of the prayer, the old negro straightening himself up, remarked audibly, "Well, I reckon dat's de fust time de Lord has ever been written to on de subject of railroads."

The sleighing has been excellent for the past few days, which has had the effect to bring forward large quantities of produce of all kinds, particularly pork and grain. The extraordinary prices paid for wheat has given renewed vigor to the business of the road. We saw loads of wheat on their way to Milwaukee from the Baraboo country, seventy miles west of this place. The transportation of Pork has also formed a large item. In returning from Milwaukee last week, we were surprised at the unprecedented number of teams loaded with this article—in one instance there being 30 teams in single file.—Watertown Register.

THE ERIE ENLARGEMENT.—The amendment to the New York constitution, providing for the immediate enlargement of the Erie Canal, will be submitted to the people of that State on the 3d of February next. There is but little question of its adoption, although there are conflicting interests enough to insure a pretty heavy vote against it in some sections of the State. The measures contemplated under it will add $6,000,000 to the banking basis of New York—to be used when required—besides $1,500,000 already issued, and to be recognized in the amendment.

BUYING AND SELLING.—The manufacturer's frauds are the result of the buyer's dishonest passion for having more expensive things than he can afford—a low price can command only an inferior article. Commerce is a benevolent scheme by which both seller and buyer should be profited. If the request in the Lord's Prayer were granted, it would bring fire from heaven on half the occupations of the world. If dollars and cents had voices, what fearful words would they utter in the ears of the owners! The lawyer takes a fee to equivocate—that is, lie—place him on the bench, and he refuses it as a bribe—though the work and the principle are just precisely the same.—Henry Ward Beecher.

PURE WATER IN NEW HAVEN.—The Board of Water Commissioners of the city of New Haven have made arrangements for the supply, at an early day, of an abundance of pure water to the inhabitants of that city. The water will be conducted from Mill river, which is about two and a half miles from the city, and will be raised to the distributing reservoir by means of pumps. The estimated cost of the works will be $222,089—or with the distributing pipes in the city, $322,089, and it is thought that a sufficient supply of water may be produced for a population of 175,000 inhabitants. Contracts have already been made for the purchase of property and the construction of the works.

Seventy-three revolutionary patriots have died during the past year; and thirty-four persons whose ages range from 100 to 123 years each.

CAUTION.

THE Public are cautioned against using Baking powder, Cream Tartar, or other Acids, for rising bread, &c., without satisfying themselves that they are pure. It is well known to the wholesale dealers in these articles that the impure article contains Alum, Lead, Lime, and other injurious ingredients. Pure Baking Powders cannot be sold so as to be very profitable to wholesalers; consequently the greater their efforts to sell an impure article. The manufacturer of Reed's Baking Powder uses an article that has been analyzed and found to contain only 1-100dth part of impurities, and is consequently perfectly safe.—This is written merely as a caution, as the manufacturer has already more orders than he can fill. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

THIS extraordinary Unguent is composed of the finest healing Balsams, and when used in accordance with the directions which accompany each pot, will insure cures when all other means fail. Cases of the most desperate Skin diseases readily yield to its efficacy. It is famous when used in cases of Gout, Rheumatism, Contracted or Stiff Joints. In Asthma it will do Wonders, if well rubbed into the Chest.

A MOST ASTOUNDING CURE OF SCROFULOUS ULCERS —A Case Certified by the Mayor of Boston, England.

Copy of a Letter from J. Noble, Esq., Mayor of Boston, Lincolnshire.

To Professor HOLLOWAY—

Dear Sir: Mrs. Sarah Dixon of Liquorpond street, Boston, has this day deposed before me that for a considerable period, she was severely afflicted with Scrofulous Sores and Ulcers in her arms, feet, legs, and other parts of her body; and although the first of medical advice was obtained, at the cost of a large sum of money, she obtained no abatement of suffering, but gradually grew worse.

Being recommended by a friend to try your Ointment, she procured a small pot, and a box of the Pills, and before that was all used, symptoms of amendment appeared. By persevering with the medicines for a short time longer, according to the directions, and strictly adhering to your rules as to diet, &c., she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health.

I remain, dear sir, yours truly,
Dated August 12, 1853. (Signed) J. NOBLE

AN EXTRAORDINARY AND RAPID CURE OF ERYSIPELAS IN THE LEG, AFTER MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED.

Copy of a letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Yeates, of the Post Office, Aldwick Road, near Bognor, Sussex, dated Jan. 12, 1853.

To Professor HOLLOWAY—

Sir: I suffered for a considerable period from a severe attack of Erysipelas, which at length settled in my leg, and resisted all medical treatment. My sufferings were very great, and I quite despaired of any permanent amendment, when I was advised to have recourse to your Ointment and Pills. I did so without delay, and am happy to say the result was eminently successful, for they effected a radical cure of my leg, and restored me to the enjoyment of health. I shall ever speak with the utmost confidence of your medicines, and have recommended them to others in this neighborhood similarly affected, who derived equal benefit.

I am, Sir, your obliged and faithful servant,

An Alderman recently elected in Springfield was greeted by his constituents in a crowd, when he addressed them thus: "Gentlemen—I am d— glad I am elected. You will find bread and cheese and brandy in the next room."

It is said that facts have lately been brought to light that show that the British colony of Sierra Leone, in Africa, has been largely engaged in the slave trade for many years back, but the whole arrangements were conducted so secretly that the officers of Government had no suspicion of it.

RAILROADS IN VIRGINIA.—From a tabular statement which is given in the Virginian papers, it appears that up to the close of the year 1853 there were 1,011 miles of railroad built and in use. The roads comprised in this account will, when completed, be 1,490 miles in length. Many other important roads are in progress in the commonwealth, but are not included in the statement, because no portion of them is yet in operation.
